TYPICAL

Improvement of food safety standards along the albanian chains of typical local products

The aim of the project is to stimulate the processing of typical local products of vegetable, animal and fish origin, carried out by "Community Laboratories" (incubators), managed by associations, as an economic and work opportunity for rural and coastal communities.

The initiative will be carried out in Albania, potentially throughout the country and especially in the prefectures of Tirana and other prefectures where the incubators of the typical products identified will be strengthened.
